

Youth Leadership Lexington County is....

A non-profit educational organization that allows selected individuals to participate in a “living classroom”, examine issues and learn about Lexington County.

Provides students with tools to develop leadership skills and citizenship practices they can apply in both high school and college.

Past Youth LLC participants have continued to use the lessons and information learned from this program to serve their community and enhance their understanding of local issues as they become active and involved young adults.

Fun activities include visiting new areas of the county, meeting other student leaders from local schools, behind the scenes look at local government and businesses.

"The program was great!"

"I would do it again!"

What will students do during the week of the Youth Leadership Lexington County Experience?

The schedule will look something like this.....

Lunch and transportation to the various activities around the county will be provided from the departure site daily

8:30 am Students will meet at a location in Lexington to depart for the days activities.

Depending on the days activities, students will visit Lexington County government offices such as the Sheriff's Department and Judicial Center.

Local news media and businesses also generously offer students the rare opportunity for a behind the scenes look at their day to day operations

Participating youth have the opportunity to meet some of our local politicians, judges, department heads and business leaders.

4:00 pm Students return to departure site.

Friday—June 16, 2006
